A Fun Day in Australia

Today was the last day in Australia with my family. The plan for today was to visit the Sydney Opera House, so we can enjoy the world music and visit some famous places along the way. After a nice breakfast at the hotel with my family, we started for an exciting day.

First, we took a bus to the Royal Botanic Garden in Sydney and spent some time looking at its beautiful plants and flowers. We even saw a few colorful birds flying around. Next, we left for the Sydney Harbor Bridge. From there, the water there was so clear. I couldn't stop taking a lot of pictures. Around lunchtime, we arrived at the Sydney Opera House. We didn't watch a show inside, but we went on a guide tour to learn about its interesting history and story.

At the end of the day, I went to a café to try some famous Australian snacks alone. They are really delicious. What a wonderful day in Sydney!
